

If you see a dog
confined inside a vehicle
on a hot day

CALL 911

HOT CAR TEMPERATURES CAN KILL YOUR DOG!!!!!!!!!!

We understand you meant to be kind by taking your dog with you today, but you could be risking their life.

Warm weather can kill a dog left in a car.

On an 80 degree day, even with the windows left slightly open, the temperature inside a car can reach 102 degrees in 10 minutes and 120 degrees in just a half hour. Even 70 degrees is too hot to leave your dog in a car if the sun is shining.

Leaving your dog for “just a minute” may be too long. A dog’s normal body temperature ranges from 101 to 102.5 degrees

Dogs can withstand a body temperature of 107-108 degrees for only a short period of time before suffering from brain damage or death.

If overcome by heat, immediately soak the dog with water and seek veterinary care.
